

UNDERGRAD MAJOR IN LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

A Latin American Studies major incorporates an integrated exploration of a major world area. Depending upon the student's interests and career aspirations, individual programs of study are designed in close consultation with CLACS Academic Advisor (clacs@illinois.edu).

REQUIREMENTS: Minimum 45 credit hours, 12 of which must be advanced hours

- Latin American Studies 170 (3 hours)
- Advanced Language (5-6 hours) (Any course beyond 104): Portuguese, Spanish or Quechua
- Latin American Studies 490 (3-6 advanced hours)
- Electives (33 hours) drawn from the approved courses by CLACS advisor:
 - ◆ 12 hours in one perspective,
 - ◆ 9 hours in a second perspective,
 - ◆ 9 hours in a third perspective, and
 - ◆ 3 hours in any of the five perspectives:
 - ◇ Anthropological/ Geographic Perspective
 - ◇ Historical Perspective
 - ◇ Humanistic Perspective
 - ◇ Ecological and Environmental Perspective
 - ◇ Social, Political, and Economic Perspective

CLACS Undergraduate MAJOR webpage: <http://www.clacs.illinois.edu/academics/default.aspx#undergrad>

UNDERGRAD MINOR IN LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

CLACS offers an interdisciplinary minor, for which students must complete 15 semester hours (3-4 classes) from the Latin American Studies curriculum, and 2 courses (5-6 semester hours) of Latin American language beyond the general Liberal Arts and Sciences language requirement.

REQUIREMENTS: Minimum 21 credit hours

- Advanced Language (5-6 hours) (Any course beyond 104)
- Electives (12-13 hours) drawn from the approved courses by CLACS advisor
- Latin American Studies 170 (3 hours)

CLACS Undergraduate Minor webpage: <http://www.clacs.illinois.edu/academics/undergrad/minor/>

Each student's course of study is devised in consultation with CLACS Academic Advisor, and is subject to the advisor's approval. Contact CLACS Academic Adviser at clacs@illinois.edu