Note: To be submitted directly by the DGS, please do not add this form to the PDF file application.

To the Director of Graduate Studies:
The applicant named below is applying for a Lemann Graduate Fellowship. We would appreciate your help with the evaluation process by providing some information.

Summary:
The Lemann Institute of Brazilian Studies offers fellowships to UIUC graduate students doing research about Brazil. Depending on the Institute’s budget and the proposed research, awards can be made for one semester, with a $9,000 stipend, an academic year, with an $18,000 stipend, or, for students proposing research in Brazil, a combination of Spring and Summer support, with a stipend of $15,000 and support of up to $2,000 for airfare to/from Brazil. The Lemann Graduate Fellows will have tuition and fee waivers from LAS units and participating professional schools.

These fellowships are available to graduate students who want to conduct research in or about Brazil. Awards can be used for airfare, in-country transportation expenses, living expenses and research-related expenses. Independent research, pre-dissertation and dissertation research, and professional degree-related activities in or about Brazil are permissible. Comparative research dealing with Brazil and other countries are also eligible, but the Institute will only fund the Brazilian portion of the research. Students on Lemann Graduate Fellowships may not have another fellowship, University job or assistantship for the duration of the fellowship, and are expected to devote full time to study or research during their fellowship tenure.
